I LOVE TO TALK ABOUT
MEETINGS!

Ask me about...

- ✓ The #1 reason meetings fail
- ✓ Why meetings are the foundation of your organization's culture
- ✓ How to effectively prepare for meetings
- ✓ Facilitating one-on-ones that will actually serve your team members
- ✓ What is a Desired Outcome, and why is it so important?
- ✓ When not to have a meeting
- ✓ Creating meeting agendas that work for you
- ✓ How poor meetings are sabotaging your success

Hi, I'm Mamie!

Since 2014, I've been on a mission to help people work together more effectively and joyfully.

I've helped thousands of managers improve their skills and cultivate strong healthy teams. Between art school and business school, being an entrepreneur and a mom, I've learned that how you work with people is just as important as what you accomplish together.

In 2014 I had an 'ah ha!' moment. Too many of us were wasting our days away in unproductive meetings. It didn't matter what type of organization you worked in or where you sat in the hierarchy. Everyone I spoke to had a story (a complaint, really) about a terrible meeting they had to sit through that week.

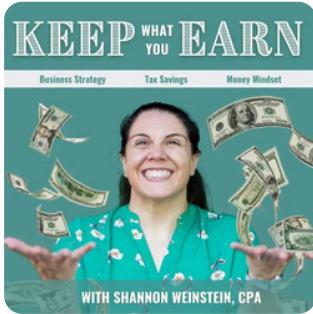

Meetings aren't just an occasional pain point. They are one of the biggest problems businesses face each day! This launched me down a path of becoming a meeting expert. In 2017, I published my first book, Momentum: Creating Effective, Engaging, and Enjoyable Meetings.

In 2018 I launched The Modern Manager podcast, a go-to resource for team leaders. I'm dedicated to helping managers engage their team—in and out of meetings—so that everyone can optimize their time and contribute to the team's success, all while feeling valued in who they are and what they do.

I would be honored to help your podcast listeners do the same.
